A photograph of a forest floor covered in vibrant green moss. Several tall, slender tree trunks stand vertically, casting long, soft shadows across the mossy ground. Sunlight filters through the canopy, creating a warm, golden glow and highlighting the texture of the moss and the bark of the trees.

Sun, please warm our hearts so that we melt into each other and know that we are one.
Together let's grow more trees.

YET I'm told

Sex is a sin
Wait until marriage
Do it with this person
Don't do it with that person
Don't do it alone.
Don't do it with many Don't do it with any
Wear a purity ring
Tell the World you are NOT having sex

WELL
ITs MY Business

Once you hurt me or hate me...
